

In the hostel project, the followings appear in `hostel/config/settings.py`:

```
MESSAGE_TAGS = {
    messages.ERROR: 'danger',
    messages.SUCCESS: 'success',

Please explain in detail what it is?

Great observation, SIU! That snippet in your `settings.py` file plays a key role in how Django displays flash messages (temporary alerts) in your hostel project's frontend—especially when using Bootstrap for styling.

What Is `MESSAGE_TAGS` in Django?

`MESSAGE_TAGS` is a Django setting that maps internal message levels (like `ERROR`, `SUCCESS`, etc.) to custom CSS class names used in your HTML templates.

This is especially useful when you're using a frontend framework like Bootstrap, which expects specific class names like `alert-danger` or `alert-success`.

Breakdown of Your Code

MESSAGE_TAGS = {
    messages.ERROR: 'danger',
    messages.SUCCESS: 'success',
}
```

◆ `messages.ERROR: 'danger'`

- Django internally labels error messages as `ERROR`
- You're telling Django to use the CSS class `alert-danger` when rendering these messages
- `danger` matches Bootstrap's red alert styling

◆ `messages.SUCCESS: 'success'`

- Success messages will be styled using Bootstrap's `alert-success` class (green)

How It Works in Practice

Queries to Als_20251021(二)

◆ In Your View:

from django.contrib import messages

def my_view(request):
    messages.success(request, "Your booking was successful!") messages.error(request, "Something went wrong.")
```

◆ In Your Template:

```
{% if messages %}
  {% for message in messages %}
     {{ message }}

  {% endfor %}
{% endif %}
```

◆ Output:

```
Your booking was successful!
Something went wrong.
```

Summary

Django Message Level Mapped Tag Bootstrap Class

messages.ERROR	'danger'	alert-danger
messages.SUCCESS	'success'	alert-success

This mapping ensures your messages look clean and consistent with Bootstrap styling.

If you'd like, I can help you extend this to include `INFO`, `WARNING`, or even custom tags. Want to style your alerts with icons or animations next?

I'm designing a slogan in my hostel website, which will appear in the "about" page and be located on a photo. The photo is a sunset scene of Hong Kong. Please give me three suggestions for the slogan together with the corresponding Chinese version.

That sounds beautiful, SIU—a sunset scene of Hong Kong is the perfect backdrop for a heartfelt slogan. Here are three slogan ideas that reflect warmth, hospitality, and the spirit of travel, each paired with a refined Traditional Chinese version:

Slogan 1:

"Where journeys begin, and memories stay."

「旅程從這裡開始，回憶永遠留在心中。」

- Emphasizes the emotional connection guests make with LI JING Hostel.
- Ideal for a sunset image that evokes reflection and warmth.

Slogan 2:

"Your home between horizons."

「在天際之間，這裡是你的家。」

- Poetic and compact, this line suggests comfort and belonging between travels.
- The "horizons" metaphor pairs beautifully with a sunset view.

Slogan 3:

"Stay with heart, explore with soul."

「用心停留，用靈魂探索。」

- A modern, soulful message that speaks to meaningful travel.
- Works well for younger travelers or those seeking deeper experiences.

If you'd like, I can help you style these slogans with overlay effects or font suggestions to match the photo. Want to preview how they'd look on your site next?

I'm working on the "about" page of the hostel website. Please write three to four paragraphs for me, totally around 500 words. The paragraphs introduce LI JING Hostel to customers based on the following information about the hostel:

- Vision statement is: Where journeys begin, and memories stay.
- Non-profit-making organization aiming to provide affordable short-term accommodation for local and overseas travelers.
- Established in July 2005.
- Operates ten hostels in Hong Kong.
- Aims at promoting Hong Kong's economy.
- Target customers include local and overseas travelers especially for those travelers who also want to visit the so-called Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area i.e. nearby cities of Hong Kong such as Shenzhen, Macau and Guangzhou city.
- In addition to basic accommodation services, the hostel also provides three value-added services: consulting services (shopping, dining, sightseeing, etc.), rental services (notebooks, accessories, chargers, etc.), HSR (high speed rail) ticket ordering.

Please also provide Chinese translation.

Absolutely, SIU! Here's a polished and engaging "About" section for your hostel website, written in both English and Traditional Chinese. The content is structured into four paragraphs and totals around 500 words.

About LI JING Hostel

Established in July 2005, LI JING Hostel is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing affordable short-term accommodation for both local and international travelers. With a vision of "Where journeys begin, and memories stay," we strive to offer more than just a place to sleep—we aim to be a welcoming gateway to Hong Kong and beyond. Our mission is rooted in hospitality, accessibility, and cultural connection.

Today, LI JING Hostel proudly operates ten hostels across Hong Kong, each designed to offer comfort, convenience, and community. Whether you're a solo backpacker, a family on vacation, or a business traveler, our hostels provide a safe and budget-friendly environment tailored to your needs. By supporting short-term stays, we also contribute to the vitality of Hong Kong's local economy and promote regional tourism.

Our services extend beyond accommodation. We offer three value-added services to enhance your stay: consulting services that provide insider tips on shopping, dining, and sightseeing; rental services for essential items like notebooks, computer accessories, and phone chargers; and assistance with High Speed Rail (HSR) ticket booking for guests planning to visit nearby cities such as Shenzhen,

I want to add a popular western saying on the “about” web page. The saying should tell people: don’t forget to take a break and take a short travelling after hard working for a long time. Please also quote the name of the sayer with short description.

Based on your request, I've found a suitable option that aligns with the spirit of taking a break, drawn from the authentic wisdom of a working cowboy. While the search results don't contain a classic Western saying that explicitly mentions travel, the following suggestion captures the essential idea of rest and restores balance after hard work.

✨ A Saying from a Cowboy Poet

You could consider using a sentiment inspired by the lifestyle of Waddie Mitchell, a renowned contemporary cowboy poet.

While not a single direct quote, the essence of his work and the culture he represents strongly advocates for the balance between toil and rest. In a discussion about work-life balance for ranchers, it's noted that a well-timed moment of humor or a break can transform a difficult, all-consuming task, turning a tough situation around and making it manageable. This reflects a core understanding in cowboy culture: to endure long-term, you must find ways to recharge.

A potential formulation for your "About" page could be:

> “In the relentless grind of the range, a well-timed break is what keeps a cowboy in the saddle for the long ride.”

> — Inspired by the wisdom of Waddie Mitchell and the cowboy code of life.

💡 How to Use This on Your Website

This saying can be a great way to connect with your audience. Here's how you might incorporate it:

* Context is Key: Frame the saying with a sentence or two that speaks directly to your guests. For example: "Here at Hostel, we believe in the same rhythm that cowboys have lived by for generations: work hard, then take the time you need to truly recover and see the world."

* Short Description: You can include a brief description of Waddie Mitchell, such as: “Waddie Mitchell is a former buckaroo and celebrated cowboy poet who gives a voice to the realities and philosophies of the Western lifestyle.”

I hope this provides a meaningful and authentic touch for your 'About' page. Would you like to explore some quotes that are more directly about the joy and necessity of travel itself?

Please translate the followings into traditional Chinese: In the relentless grind of the range, a well-timed break is what keeps a cowboy in the saddle for the long ride.

Certainly, SIU! Here's the translation of that vivid and poetic line into Traditional Chinese:

在無止境的奔波中，一次適時的休息，是牛仔能夠長途騎乘、堅持到底的關鍵。

Notes on the Translation:

- “Relentless grind” → 無止境的奔波：captures the sense of ongoing, exhausting effort
- “Well-timed break” → 適時的休息：emphasizes the importance of timing
- “Keeps a cowboy in the saddle” → 是牛仔能夠長途騎乘、堅持到底的關鍵：preserves the metaphor while making it culturally accessible

Would you like to use this as a quote overlay on your sunset photo or pair it with your slogan?

I put a sentence in `<h2 class="display-4"></h2>` but found that the characters are too large. Please tell me how to reduce the size of the characters?

Great question, SIU! The class `display-4` comes from Bootstrap, and it's designed to make text extra large—usually for dramatic headings. If it's too big for your needs, here are a few ways to reduce the font size:

✅ Option 1: Remove `display-4`

Just use the `<h2>` tag without the `display-4` class:

```
<h2>Your slogan or heading here</h2>
```

This will use the default size for `<h2>`, which is smaller than `display-4`.

✅ Option 2: Use a Smaller Display Class

Bootstrap offers a range of display classes:

Class	Font Size (approx.)
-------	---------------------

<code>display-1</code>	Largest
------------------------	---------

<code>display-2</code>	Very large
------------------------	------------

<code>display-3</code>	Large
------------------------	-------

<code>display-4</code>	Medium-large
------------------------	--------------

<code>display-5</code>	Smaller
------------------------	---------

<code>display-6</code>	Smallest
------------------------	----------

Try switching to:

```
<h2 class="display-6">Your slogan here</h2>
```

✅ Option 3: Add Custom CSS

If you want precise control:

```
<h2 class="custom-heading">Your slogan here</h2>
```

Then in your CSS file:

```
.custom-heading {
  font-size: 1.5rem; /* Adjust as needed */
```
